CMU IEEE Corporate Sponsorship

What is IEEE?

Carnegie Mellon University IEEE is a campus organization that is open to all students in CMU's Electrical & Computer Engineering department.

We are CMU's local chapter of the Institute for Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE). Our mission is to provide a social, technical, and professional community to the ECE student body. We want to help our ECE community gain knowledge, skills, and networks that will help them through their academic and professional careers. We are currently a club of over 60 members, and we hold many events throughout the school year.

Why support IEEE?

Carnegie Mellon University has one of the top Electrical and Computer Engineering programs in the nation. Supporters of CMU IEEE will get to interact with these students through company events, resume books, and more!

How to support IEEE?

The best way to support CMU IEEE is by emailing us at ieeecarnegie@gmail.com, so that we can provide you with more information.

IEEE CARNEGIE MELLON UNIVERSITY

STUDENT CHAPTER

Sponsorship Tiers

Gold ($5000+)

- CMU IEEE will work with you to host larger events on campus
- Company name will be included on CMU IEEE Swag (t-shirts)
- Company will receive a tailored book of student profiles, including resumes, relevant skill sets, and more
- Includes Silver and Bronze tiers

Silver ($2000+)

- Company will receive a resume book of IEEE club members who have provided resumes
- IEEE will book rooms for company-hosted events throughout the year
- Company can distribute company swag to CMU IEEE's organization members
- Includes Bronze tier

Bronze ($500+)

- Company logo on IEEE website
- CMU IEEE will book a room for a company-hosted event during the fall semester
- Promote company events & distribute information to IEEE member list